

Sunday Notes

First Church Happenings for the week of August 17, 2025

Sunday Worship

"You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill cannot be hid. No one after lighting a lamp puts it under the bushel basket, but on the lampstand, and it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven."

In the first words of the Bible, God says: "Let there be light." In the opening words of the Gospel of John we are told that Jesus is the true light. In the Gospel of Matthew, Jesus tells his followers to be light for others. What does it mean for us in this era? How can we be light for others? I look forward to sharing a few stories with you when we gather for worship this Sunday.

In peace,

Susan Izard

Altar Flowers

This week our Altar Flowers are donated by Suzanne and Webb Carnes in loving memory of their mothers, Anne Kostyal and Eleanor G. Tyng.

Additional flowers donated by the family of Peg Johnson.

August 2025 Reach Out: Connecticut Foodshare

Founded in 1982, Connecticut Foodshare is a member of the Feeding America nationwide network of food banks. Their mission is to deliver an informed and equitable response to hunger by mobilizing community partners, volunteers, and supporters.

Connecticut Foodshare supports individuals and families – from one end of the state to the other – by addressing root causes, creating long-term solutions, and distributing nutritious food through local partner programs in an effort to alleviate hunger. "Our vision is to have a thriving community, free of hunger."

To learn more and donate please use the links provided or donate in church (note Connecticut Foodshare on your envelope) or online thru the church: <https://pushpay.com/g/whfirstchurch>

Greetings From the Spirit Team

The Spirit Team recently extended wishes to all for a summer filled with fun and relaxation. We still do! As part of the summer tradition, we hope you were able to attend the July Carillon series. Come and see the tent that will shade our musicians during the "Sun is Shining" concert series that begins on Tuesday, August 5 at 5:30 pm on the front lawn and continues every Tuesday through August 26.

The Spirit Team hopes that you will consider joining the Choir and Bell Choir ensembles this Fall. Choir practices are Tuesdays, from 7-8:30 pm. The Bell Choir practices on Wednesdays from 7-8 pm. Both begin the first week of September. Fear not! Jim Boratko and Jessica Berube-Sengupta are masters of talent development!

Upcoming GHIAA Workshops on Combating Racial and Religious Hate

We are all invited to register for this free workshop. It is limited to 20 participants, so don't delay.

Combating Racism: (Up)Rooting Racial (In)Justice training with consultants Shae Washington and Jason Fredlund, Thursdays, Oct. 23 & 30, Nov. 6 & 13, 6:30-9:00pm (mostly via Zoom). Learn and practice skills to uproot racial injustice and root ourselves more deeply in a lifelong commitment to racial justice and collective liberation. For additional information and to register, click HERE.

Seeds of Hope: A Preaching Gathering for All

Join siblings from across the Southern New England Conference and beyond Sept. 5 & 6 in downtown Hartford for a two-day gathering of storytelling, preaching, live music, and workshops.

This is more than a preaching event - it's a space for storytellers, artists, community builders, preachers, lay folks, and seekers to gather in a time when the ground feels uncertain - to speak, to listen, and to plant what must come next. It is not just for preachers or clergy, but for anyone who feels the world shifting beneath their feet and still chooses to plant, to root, and to rise.

Hartford Stage will host us Friday night for a Moth-like storytelling event and again Saturday afternoon for a dynamic gathering of music, messages, and performance. Saturday morning will feature preaching workshops at nearby Christ Church Cathedral. All are welcome.

Check Out the John P. Webster Library!

At the JPW Library, you can:

Watch the live-streamed worship services in air-conditioned comfort!

Find a separate place to worship when you need one

Set your toddler free in the children's area

Have a cup of tea or coffee (or hot chocolate!) at our Coffee Bar

The JPW Library is also open Monday-Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Book Group News:

Book groups resume in a couple of weeks! All books are in – pick up yours at the Book Mobile or at the JPW Library!

Awakening the Spirit resumes meeting Monday, September 8, noon to 1:30 p.m. to begin discussing Richard Rohr's The Tears of Things: Prophetic Wisdom for an Age of Outrage. "...Tears come from both awe and empathy, and they generate even deeper awe and deeper empathy in us. The sympathy that wells up when we weep can be life-changing, too, drawing us out of ourselves and into communion with those around us."

Food for Thought resumes Tuesday, October 6 at 5 p.m. We're reading How Lucky by Will Leitch, "the unforgettable story of Daniel, a fiercely resilient young man living with a physical disability, as he works to solve a kidnapping incident he has witnessed. Unforgettable. Brilliant." (online reader reviews).

Believe in YourSHELF Tween Book Group resumes Sunday, October 19 at 10 a.m. in the Community Room. We're starting the year with The Puzzling Fate of Millicent Graves by Dora M. Mitchell. "If life were a bookshelf, Millicent Graves would have it organized to perfection. Instead, her life is filled with chaos. When mysterious jigsaw puzzles offer Millie a chance to change her destiny, she rearranges the pieces she doesn't like, replacing some parts with ones that better suit her vision of an organized life" (Amazon). That's a great idea, right?

The John P. Webster Library sponsors three book groups that meet regularly in the library September-June. Copies of the books are provided for participants, and new members are always welcome to any group! For more information, please contact Jennifer or Molly at 860-232-3893 or at jpwebster@whfirstchurch.org.

New Reads at the JPWL!

Religion in the Lands that Became America: A New History by Thomas A. Tweed

Traditional narratives of religion in North America begin with the arrival of English settlers, bypassing the 10,000 years of religious practice that predated the pilgrims and had an enormous impact on the development of the continent. Historian Thomas A. Tweed illuminates the histories of Native American, African American, and European American religious traditions in North America, as well as their complex interactions, to provide a fascinating and prescient look at the spiritual practices that have shaped the continent.

Angelica: For Love and Country in a Time of Revolution by Molly Beer

Beer's debut novel breathes new life into a period often dominated by masculine themes or dulled by familiarity. In her well-researched account of Angelica Schuyler Church (you might remember Angelica from "Hamilton," the blockbuster Broadway show), Beer illuminates how American women have plied influence and networks for political ends, including the making of a new nation. An enthralling and revealing telling of the birth of the United States.

Ferris by Kate DiCamillo

"This story pretends to be small and unassuming, it's also universal and bittersweet and genuinely funny, all packed into a few meaningful, carefully chosen words. It's about unlikely ghosts and even more unlikely raccoon infestations. It's about would-be outlaw sisters and sparrows in feasting halls. It's about lighting chandeliers, holding hands, and sitting with someone as they cry and eat their pie. This book is about a lot of things that all turn out to be one thing. If you're wondering, that thing would be love" (online reader review)
